

Marios Avraamides

European Commission, Environment Directorate General, B-1049 Brussels, Belgium
marios.avraamides@ec.europa.eu

The intervention in the discussion will focus on the objective of the Regulation (EC) No. 842/2006 to contain, prevent and thus reduce emissions of fluorinated greenhouse gases covered by the Kyoto Protocol through a series of measures which affect the refrigeration and air-conditioning industry, such as containment, recovery, certification and training of personnel, labelling etc.