

Marcello Collantin

Energy Saving in Refrigeration

In Italy only very few Supermarket companies are involved in serious energy saving programs.

Electric energy in Italy is expensive and the bill, at the end of the year is heavy, why there is so poor interest to save energy and money ?

How is the situation in other European countries ?

How, in the other European countries, is checked the maintenance and effectiveness of refrigeration plants ?